

AERIAL FINE ART · TRADE & INTERIORS

At -20°C before dawn in Eastern Hokkaido, frozen rivers seen from directly above become abstract paintings — ice, water and light, drawn by the land itself.

Large-format giclée prints for hotels, residences, healthcare, wellness and corporate interiors. Each work brings a sense of stillness and cool into warm-climate spaces.

Works

01

Frozen Vein

Ice veins branching through golden marsh grass — a composition the river drew for itself overnight at -20°C .

· Limited & open editions · Signed certificate of authenticity

02

Silent Split

A single line cuts the pale blue ice like a brushstroke. Beneath it, the river is still quietly moving.

· Limited & open editions · Signed certificate of authenticity

03

Adrift

What reads as stones or pearls is water — frozen and set adrift across a dark river surface.

04

Meander

The path water has chosen over thousands of years. From the air, the meander becomes a single drawing.

· Limited & open editions · Signed certificate of authenticity

05

Confluence

Two rivers meet — or part. From directly above, it is impossible to say which way the water moves.
